

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION. Labour and Employment in a Globalising World ..... 11
Christian Azaïs

PART I. INSTITUTIONAL FRAMEWORKS: WHAT HAS CHANGED IN LABOUR MARKET POLICIES?

The Brazilian Labour Market. Structural Features,
“New” Flexibilisation and Recent Performance ..... 33
Liana Carleial

The Effects of Activation Measures on Disadvantaged Jobseekers’ Rights and Obligations in Denmark, Finland and Sweden ..... 49
Paul Van Aerschoot

Implementing the New Swiss Employment Policies in the Context of Globalisation ..... 61
Olivier Giraud

PART II. DECENTRALISATION AND SPECIALISATION OF LABOUR AND EMPLOYER ASSOCIATIONS: EMERGING NEGOTIATION PARADIGMS

Entrepreneur Associations and Trade Unions. towards a Merging Labour Policy Agenda? ..... 85
Paola Cappellin

Territorialised Industrial Policies and New Spatial Divisions of Labour.
What is at Stake for Socio-economic Actors? ..... 109
Jacques Perrat

PART III. INDIVIDUAL AUTONOMY VS.
COLLECTIVE RESPONSIBILITY IN A WORLD OF FLEXIBLE LABOUR

PART III. A. AUTONOMY AT WORK

Autonomy, General Working Capacity and Collective Action ..... 133
Patrick Dieuaide

Informational Worker Autonomy.
Freedom or Control?..... 151
Cinara L. Rosenfield

Subordination or Autonomy?
The Hybridisation of the Labour Market. The Italian case..... 165
Christian Azaïs

New Organisational Realities. Individualisation and Atomisation in the Organisation of ‘Second Modernity’..... 185
Laima Seksnyte-Sappington

PART III. B. AUTONOMY AND CAPITALISM

Limits of Fulfilment in an Age of Flexibility.
Changes in Management Semantics and the Critique of Capitalism ..... 207
Christoph Henning

Ideology Down Under and the Shifting Sands of Individualism ..... 229
Georgina Murray and David Peetz

Public Sectors Becoming a Flexible Labour World.
Consequences for the Employees ..... 247
Kerstin Wüstner

Postface..... 267
Donna Kesselman