

Index

- activists 118, 144
- agency
 cultural and linguistic 183, 185, 187–188, 195
 individual 76, 118
- Alto-Adige/Südtirol* 159–161, 168
- anti-discrimination 3, 6, 35, 42
- arson attacks (Germany) 124–125
- belief 3, 42
- belonging 3, 7, 69, 85–87, 90, 93, 101, 112, 114, 124, 147
 linguistic 169, 193, 197–198
 national 7, 87–89, 96–97
 non-white 205, 208–209, 211, 216 and social property 52–54
- bilingualism 165–166, 168, 171, 193
- borders 87, 90, 161
- boundary 3, 32, 116, 206
 linguistic 167, 184–186, 191, 194
- Catalan 159, 160–161, 165, 191
- chavs* 10, 212–216
- Christianity 42, 44–45, 53, 140
 Christians 44, 52, 54, 114
 Black 49–50
- church 24–25, 35, 45
- citizen 17, 93, 110, 113, 165–166
- citizenship 98–99, 116–117, 124, 190 active 7, 98, 135, 137, 145–148 acts of 137, 150
 education 97–98
 ‘Advisory Group on Citizenship’ 98
 sexual 28, 35
- claims 3, 28, 43
 cosmopolitan 113–114
- class 44, 112, 118–121, 205, 208–209, 211, 216
- cohesion (social and cultural) 1, 67, 87, 89, 97–99, 176
- colonialism 203–204, 208 post-/de-colonialism 2–5, 9, 191, 216
- communication 1, 62, 66, 184, 191, 193, 195, 204, 206, 208
- communism 115, 124, 136, 142, 207, 209, 211
- communities 22, 139, 213 ethnic & religious 87, 91, 97, 148
 linguistic 91, 162–163, 166
 personal 69, 72–74, 77
 Turkish 110, 112
- cosmopolitanism 2–4, 8, 10, 92, 94, 100, 111–113, 116, 206
 cultural 62, 72, 77
 methodological 93, 100
 vernacular 136–138, 151
- cosmopolitans 91–93, 111–112, 115, 119, 121, 140, 169
 post-cosmopolitan 113, 116, 127
- culture 61–62, 77
 cross-/cross-linguistic 184–186, 188, 192, 194–195, 198, 205–206, 210
- democracy 8, 94
- de-traditionalisation 15, 16
- diaspora 1, 116
- difference 3–4, 97
 domestication of 137, 193, 197

- encounter with 1, 5 facial 6, 61–64, 66
 visible 61, 71
 linguistic 159, 191, 194–195, 198
 sexual 21, 24
 visible 17, 115, 203–204, 208, 211, 214, 216
 disability 71–72
 theory (critical feminist) 63–64, 68 discourse 10, 164, 216 anti-Muslim 113, 116
 homophobic 26, 33
 public 21, 112
 discrimination 25–27, 65, 72, 90, 140, 162, 164, 174
 disfigurement to faces 61–63, 65, 67, 70–71 diversity 4, 9, 23, 62, 141, 150, 183, 185, 208–209
 super-diversity 4, 86, 206 dres/dresiarze 210–216

 emotion 86–87, 94, 101, 198 empire 4, 17, 139, 203, 207 European Union 3, 17–21, 29, 31, 35, 116 legislation 16, 23, 27–28, 31–35, 41 Europeanisation 10, 113, 204 everyday
 language 159, 197–198
 peace 137–138, 151
 practices 136–137, 207 exclusion 173–175, 210, 212, 215 generation 21–22, 25, 116, 189 geographies of ‘Britishness’ 99, 206 emotional 87, 185–186 geopolitics 88, 91, 103, 211

 heteronormativity 21, 31 heterosexuality 21, 24, 35, 44 homophobia 15, 16, 18, 21–22, 25, 36 homosexuality 23–24, 28 identity 72, 85, 91, 191, 197, 113, 207 hybrid/mixed heritage 112, 117, 121, 137, 176, 193

 national 86, 96, 98–99, 101, 103– 104, 208
 German 111–112
 Scottish 87, 101–102
 immigration 4, 8, 116, 194, 209
 Turkish 114, 119
 inclusion 66, 116, 120
 aesthetics of 62, 77 inequality 68, 172
 integration 121–122, 147 interaction (order) 64–65 and stigma 64–67, 76
 intersectionality 1, 3, 10, 129, 210, 216

 language 149, 188, 190, 192, 194–195, 204, 206
 Leeds (and Warsaw) 17, 19–20, 203, 205, 209–210, 215
 lesbians and gay men 15–18, 20–21, 30, 44 LGTB (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender) 22–23
 rights 32, 34
 litigation 41, 45, 52, 54 Christian 47–48, 57

 masculinity 44, 210, 214 media 25–26, 33, 214 micro-politics 136, 138, 151 migrants 3, 111–112
 Turkish 110, 114–115
 Latin American 185, 189, 191, 198 minorities ethno-national 1, 90, 189

- language 8, 157–160, 162, 166–167, 173–174
 sexual 20–21, 24, 32–33, 42
 visible 111, 204
 mobility 3, 16 social 116, 118, 121, 129
 visible 114–115
 Mostar/Novi Sad 138–139, 142–144, 146–149
 multilingualism 159, 167–169 Muslims 1, 209, 210

 narrative 4–5, 15, 43, 68, 99, 111, 114, 116, 191, 198, 205, 211–212, 216 nation 87–88
 theories of 95–96, 102
 nationalism 88, 94, 100–101, 112
 methodological 92–93
 networks 69–70
 New Labour government 87, 97–99 NGOs (Non-Governmental Organisations) 141–149
 normality 61, 64, 69–70, 74 normativity 62, 77, 212 norms 6–7, 24, 64, 93, 206, 214 policy 98–99, 116

 language 160, 163–164, 172, 175
 policy makers 92, 97
 positionality 188, 191, 198, 205, 208 postdependence 205, 207 power 90, 94–96, 117, 199 prejudice 4, 15, 18–19, 22–23, 30, 128, 203–206, 210, 215
 property 6, 43–44, 50–52, 55, 57, 61
 Ladele 45–46, 50, 54
 McFarlane 48–50, 53

 racism 114, 123, 206, 211 recognition 173, 175–176, 191 reconciliation 140, 145, 149 refugees 2, 139–140, 190 representation 4, 6, 63, 198, 208
 rights 118, 140
 language 157–158, 160
 Roma 3, 18, 112, 139, 143, 173–175, 206

 sexualities dissident 44, 55
 space 1–3, 116, 184
 public/private 3, 29, 136

 territory territorial principle 158–161, 167–168 territorial regime 160, 164, 166, 171–172
 topography 5, 15–17, 23, 31 transformation 5, 17, 68, 112 translation 185–187, 193–196 ‘cultural brokers’ 187, 195 visibility 4, 23, 25, 63, 149, 191, 212 of gay men and lesbians 25–27, 29, 31, 34

 Warsaw (and Leeds) 17, 19–20, 203, 205, 209–210, 215
 Weimar 110–111

 zones
 conflict 3, 5, 8, 210
 post-conflict 141
 contact 4–5, 8

New Visions of the Cosmopolitan

Series Editors: Patrick O'Mahony and Tracey Skillington

New Visions of the Cosmopolitan explores how the forces of contemporary social change release a cosmopolitan energy that dilutes the relevance of the nation-state. The 'transnational turn' creates tendencies toward greater world openness. A more pluralist, multi-perspectivist late modernity requires a cosmopolitan research framework capable of illustrating how world histories and futures are intricately connected under these new conditions. This series offers a body of work exploring how cosmopolitan ideas, emerging from encounters between local and global currents, generate impulses towards social, cultural, legal, political and economic transformation.

The series invites contributions that focalize this contemporary situation using theories, perspectives and methodologies drawn from multiple disciplines. Of particular, although not exclusive, interest are proposals exploring: transnational visions of justice and solidarity; cosmopolitan publics; researching cosmopolitan worlds; cosmopolitan memory; the cosmopolitics of contemporary global capitalism; borders of the cosmopolitan; cosmopolitanism in the non-western world; security, war and peace in a cosmopolitan age; multiple modernities; divergence and convergence; political culture and multi-level governance.

This peer-reviewed series publishes monographs and edited collections.

- Vol. 1 Patrick O'Mahony
The Contemporary Theory of the Public Sphere
2013. ISBN 978-3-0343-0146-6
- Vol. 2 Rebecka Lettevall and Kristian Petrov (eds) Critique of Cosmopolitan Reason: Timing and Spacing the Concept of World Citizenship
2014. ISBN 978-3-0343-0898-4
- Vol. 3 Aybige Yilmaz, Ruxandra Trandafoiu and Aris Mousoutzanis (eds) Media and Cosmopolitanism
2015. ISBN 978-3-0343-0969-1

Vol. 4 Anastasia Marinopoulou (ed.)
Cosmopolitan Modernity
2015. ISBN 978-3-0343-0873-1

Vol. 5 Ulrike M. Vieten and Gill Valentine (eds)
Cartographies of Differences: Interdisciplinary Perspectives
2016. ISBN 978-3-0343-1859-4