

Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction .....   | 11  |
| 1 Jewish Philosophy of Modernity .....   | 25  |
| On the Affinities between Modernity and Judaism .....                                   | 25  |
| The Problematic Connectedness between Judaism and ModernThought .....               | 40  |
| The Universe of Modernity I: The Historical Hiatus .....                                | 45  |
| The Universe of Modernity II: The Structure that Conditions Thinking .....              | 50  |
| The Universe of Modernity III: The Problem of PhilosophicalAccount of Judaism ..... | 58  |
| The Concept of Jewish Philosophy of Modernity .....                                     | 62  |
| 2 Edmond Jabès: Life and Writing .....   | 67  |
| Life .....  | 67  |
| Writing.....  | 92  |
| Conclusion: Jabès' Supercooled Modernism .....  | 102 |
| 3 Tzimtzum: Jabès and Luria .....   | 105 |
| Inaccessibility of the Origins.....   | 105 |
| Effects of the Catastrophe.....   | 106 |
| The Jabèsian Tzimtzum : An Outline .....   | 114 |
| Tzimtzum as an Ontological Principle .....                                       | 119 |
| The Imaginary and the Real.....   | 120 |
| Tzimtzum as the Principle of Discontinuity .....                                 | 122 |
| An Example of the Tzimtzum Cycle: The Act of Writing .....                       | 125 |
| Tzimtzum in Jabès and in Luria .....   | 128 |
| Conclusion: The Jabèsian Tzimtzum as a Philosophical Idea ofModernity .....  | 130 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 4 Negative Ontology I: The Vocable .....                     | 135 |
| The Vocable : The Concept and its Contexts .....                    | 136 |
| The Vocable as an Element of Negative Ontology .....                | 141 |
| The Vocable as a Trace of the Indicible .....                | 144 |
| Representation and Repetition .....  | 146 |
| Writing as a Philosophical Practice.....                                   | 148 |
| The Role of the Text as a Path of Tzimtzum .....                    | 151 |
| Conclusion: Kabbalistic vs. Modern Meaning of the Ontology of Writing..... | 154 |
|    |     |
| 5 Negative Ontology II: God, Nothing and the Name .....             | 161 |
| God – Nothing.....   | 161 |
| Tzimtzum and the Exigency of Monotheism .....                       | 166 |
| Language and Monotheism.....   | 173 |
| Conclusion: Relentless Theology and the Fate of Jerusalem.....             | 176 |
|    |     |
| 6 Messianism of Writing .....                                       | 179 |
| Hope for the Definitive Book.....  | 180 |
| Messianism and Jabès' Ontology.....  | 182 |
| Messianism, Time and Truth.....  | 185 |
| The Risk of Messianism: “The Edge of the Book” .....                       | 188 |
| God as the Ultimate Reader: Messianism and Monotheism .....                | 190 |
| Oneness and Equality of Things.....  | 192 |
| Equality of Things: Possibility and Impossibility .....                    | 196 |
| The Essence of Messianic Utopia.....                                       | 199 |
| Messianism's Bi-directional Movement.....                                  | 201 |
| There Is No Salvation Beyond Writing.....                                  | 203 |
| Conclusion: Jabès' Messianism and Modern Philosophy .....                  | 206 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 7 The Concept of the Book .....                             | 213 |
| Introduction: The Layers of the Book.....                          | 214 |
| Whiteness: Continuity and Legibility .....                         | 217 |
| Whiteness: The Awe of Excess and Sur-vival.....                    | 219 |
| Whiteness: Existence as Incompletion and Succession.....           | 223 |
| The Script of the Book .....                                       | 227 |
| Writing and the Book.....  | 234 |
| Writing as Marking the Book: Jabès vs. Hegel and Mallarmé .....    | 235 |
| Writing Instead of Knowledge.....                                  | 241 |
| Conclusion: The Book and Jewish Philosophy of Modernity.....       | 244 |
|    |     |
| 8 Judaism and Writing .....                                 | 249 |
| Introduction: A Jew and a Writer.....                              | 249 |
| Writing and Judaism: The Structure of the Book.....                | 254 |
| The Wound as the Beginning of Judaism and Writing.....             | 257 |
| Historicity: Judaism as a Religion after Religion.....             | 260 |
| The Jew and the Writer: A Silent Community.....                    | 264 |
| The Fusion of Judaism and Writing: Life as Interpretation .....    | 270 |
| Conclusion: Jabès' Judaism and Jewish Philosophy of Modernity..... | 274 |
|    |     |
| 9 The Shoah and Anti-Semitism .....                         | 277 |
| The Shoah as a Disaster .....                                      | 277 |
| Bearing Witness to the Shoah.....                                  | 285 |
| Anti-Semitism as the Rule of the Name .....                        | 295 |
| Conclusion: Anti-Semitism and the Modern Depletion.....            | 300 |

10 Jabès’ Ethics: Repetition, Resemblance and Hospitality ..... 305

    Repetition..... 305

    Resemblance ..... 311

    Hospitality..... 318

    The End in Whiteness: A Possibility of Modern Ethics ..... 327

11 Theology of the Point: Jabès as a Modern Kabbalist ..... 331

    Introduction: Linguistic Kabbalism in Jabès’ Thinking..... 332

    From Letters to the Point ..... 337

    Introduction to Kabbalism of the Point, or on Jabès’ Materialistic
Différance ..... 339

    The Point as the Basis of Creation ..... 345

    The Point as the End of God’s Erasure and Withdrawal..... 348

    Conclusion: What the Theology of the Point Actually Describes ..... 356

Conclusion: Edmond Jabès and Jewish Philosophy of Modernity ..... 363

References ..... 377

Index ..... 397