Figures

Figure 2.1: emergence and alteration of institutions ........................................... 21
Figure 2.2: institutional stickiness ..................................................................... 24
Figure 3.1: deep determinants of growth ............................................................ 88
Figure 3.2: endogeneity and reverse causality .................................................... 89
Figure 3.3: religious affiliation and informal institutions ................................. 100
Figure 3.4: religious affiliation and formal institutions .................................... 100
Figure 3.5: GDP per capita and trust ............................................................... 104
Figure 3.6: GDP per capita and control ............................................................. 104
Figure 3.7: GDP per capita and respect ............................................................ 105
Figure 3.8: GDP per capita and obedience ....................................................... 105
Figure 3.9: GDP per capita and inform4 ........................................................... 105
Figure 3.10: GDP per capita and xconst ........................................................... 106
Figure 4.1: GDP per capita for MENA and high income country groups ....... 126
Figure 4.2: GDP per capita for MENA and world regions ............................... 127
Figure 4.3: GDP per capita for the MENA subgroups ..................................... 127
Figure 4.4: MENA average GDP per capita growth rates ................................ 128
Figure 4.5: investment freedom in the MENA region ..................................... 135
Figure 4.6: investment freedom in advanced economies ............................... 135
Figure 4.7: MENA average FDI inflows ......................................................... 136
Figure 4.8: government share of RGDPL ....................................................... 137
Figure 4.9: population growth ....................................................................... 138
Figure 4.10: literacy rates (adults) ................................................................. 140
Figure 4.11: secondary school enrolment ....................................................... 140
Figure 4.12: MENA business freedom ........................................................... 142
Figure 4.13: advanced economies business freedom ...................................... 142
Figure 4.14: MENA financial freedom ........................................................... 145
Figure 4.15: advanced economies financial freedom ..................................... 146
Figure 4.16: MENA trade freedom ............................................................... 147
Figure 4.17: advanced economies trade freedom .......................................... 148
Figure 4.18: MENA freedom from corruption ............................................... 149
Figure 4.19: advanced economies freedom from corruption ......................... 149
Figure 4.20: MENA property rights ............................................................... 152
Figure 4.21: advanced economies property rights ......................................... 152
Figure 4.22: MENA: voice and accountability ............................................... 158
Figure 4.23: advanced economies: voice and accountability .......................... 159
Figure 4.24: MENA: regulatory quality ......................................................... 159
Figure 4.25: advanced economies: regulatory quality ..................................... 159
Figure 4.26: MENA: government effectiveness .............................................. 160
Figure 4.27: advanced economies: government effectiveness ......................... 160
Figure 4.28: MENA: political stability ........................................................ 160
Figure 4.29: advanced economies: political stability ..................................... 161
Figure 4.30: MENA: rule of law ................................................................. 161
Figure 4.31: advanced economies: rule of law.................................................. 161
Figure 4.32: MENA: control of corruption......................................................... 162
Figure 4.33: advanced economies: control of corruption ................................. 162
Figure 4.34: trust in MENA and advanced economies .................................... 172
Figure 4.35: control in MENA and advanced economies .................................. 172
Figure 4.36: respect in MENA and advanced economies .................................. 172
Figure 4.37: obedience in MENA and advanced economies ............................... 173
Figure 4.38: live with parents, MENA and advanced economies ....................... 173
Figure 4.39: women as single parents, MENA and advanced economies .......... 173
Figure 4.40: women have to have children, MENA and advanced economies ...... 174
Figure 4.41: divorce not justifiable, MENA and advanced economies ............... 174
Figure 4.42: university important, MENA and advanced economies ............... 174
Figure 4.43: men better politicians, MENA and advanced economies ............... 175
Figure 4.44: politicians’ beliefs in God, MENA and advanced economies ......... 175