

Contents

Introduction	7
Chapter I
Collective forgetting of the Holocaust in the People's Republic of Poland	13
1. Collective memory and collective forgetting.....	13
2. Genealogy of the need to forget.....	27
3. From autonomy to repression	48
4. A monument of martyrdom and the encyclopaedists case.....	57
5. March exorcisms on the Holocaust.....	67
6. Alibi for Oblivion	78
Chapter II
“Poor Poles” look at “Shoah”:
Recovery of the memory of the Holocaust in the country of witnesses	87
1. Reconstructing the memory of Jews and the Holocaust in the last decade of the People's Republic of Poland.....	87
2. “Shoah” in Poland: identification of the areas of repression	102
3. What Błoński said in Miłosz's words.	116
Chapter III
The national debate on the crime in Jedwabne	133
1. The antecedents and the structure of the debate.	133
2. Historikerstreit in Polish.	150
3. Jedwabne in the moral discourse	166
4. The defence of the Polish innocence paradigm.	178
5. Disputes over reconciliation rituals	193
Chapter IV
“Fear” after Jedwabne. The debate that almost didn't happen	215
1. “Fear” in Poland and in the eyes of historians	215
2. Invalidating strategies	225
3. “Fear” without fear	243
Epilogue	249
Bibliography.....	269

