

Acknowledgments

Without generous support from the English section of the Department of Humanities at Mid-Sweden University this book might not have seen the light of day. Thus, I wish to express my deep gratitude to my colleagues there for encouraging its publication, especially Terry Walker and Anders Olsson. The book is based on my doctoral thesis, written and presented at Uppsala University. I would like to acknowledge my Uppsala University colleagues for their constructive advice and scholarly support during the writing process. Most importantly, I am grateful to my doctoral supervisors Merja Kytö and Christer Geisler in this respect. Thank you all for your professional assistance and inspiration.
