

Index of Subjects

- Belgium
 - political websites, 107
- Central and Eastern Europe (CEE)
 - political websites in, 140–49
- China
 - e-governance for social harmony, 360
 - e-government, 359
 - e-media, press, government, politics in, 341–62
 - Government Online Project, 349–54
 - impact of Internet on politics, 355–59
 - Internet in, 13
 - political participation and Internet, 360
- citizens
 - and the Internet, 162–66
 - in China netizens on Internet, 341
- Crisis Communication Combination (CCC) theory
 - and language complexity, 225
 - and method, 224
 - and Ukraine, 221–38
- democracy and virtual politics, 303–17
- digital divide, 77, 102, 162, 341, 356
 - in US, 98
 - in US Internet usage, 93
- electronic media
 - and models of human agency, 307–10
 - and political involvement, 12, 13
 - deficit, 319–25
 - democracy and virtual politics, 303–17
- e-media in China, 341–62
- e-politics
 - and US adults, 92
 - participation friendliness of websites, 101–19
- ethnography and politics, 58–59
- Euro, 12, 185
 - metaphors and, 185–99
 - press reporting on, 203–17
- European Union (EU)
 - Euro as single currency in, 185
 - Euroland, 186
 - metaphors in press, 185–99
 - political websites in, 136–40
 - press reporting on Euro, 203–17
- Finland
 - political websites, 106
- frame, 12
 - defined, 207
- Germany
 - Green Party Convention, 304–7
 - political websites evaluated, 139
 - government websites, 123–53
- human agency models
 - and information technology, 307–10
 - passive agent, 307
 - rational actor, 308
 - sovereign actor, 309
- Information and Communication Technology (ICT), 157
- Internet
 - access for minorities in US, 86
 - advantages for politics, 104
 - and citizens, 162–66
 - and Green Party Convention, 304–7
 - and less face-to-face contact, 99
 - and models of human agency, 307–10
 - and political campaigning, 107–8
 - and political communication in US, 99
 - and political involvement, 12, 124
 - and politics, 158–62
 - and US political socialization, 83–86
 - as socialization agent, 21–23
 - China's political communication media, 345–49
 - citizens' use of, 123–25
 - combined with Chinese politics, 349–54
 - democratic impact of, 125
 - disadvantages for politics, 105
 - favored by younger generation in US, 335
 - impact on Chinese politics, 355–59
 - in China, 341–62
 - in China users called netizens, 341
 - in China's government, 13
 - influence on communication, 323
 - online news access in US, 97
 - parental filters in US, 88
 - participation friendliness of websites, 101–19
 - rise of simulated politics, 310–15
 - transformed politics, 177
 - upholds incumbent political powers, 11
 - upholds incumbent powers, 157–78
 - use patterns for adults in US, 92–98
 - use patterns for children in US, 86–92
- media
 - affect on political participation, 329–39
 - and socialization of minority children in US, 84
 - and terrorism, 12, 251–300
 - as socialization agent, 21–23
 - Brigate Rosse and Moro case, 271–76
 - CCC theory and, 227
 - deficit of electronic, 319–25
 - defined and described, 261–65
 - electronic up in US, 77–99
 - in Russia, 12, 241–47
 - on Ukraine's Orange Revolution, 221–38
 - print down in US, 77–99
 - print vs. electronic, 11
 - radio in US, 323
 - television and Internet in US, 83–86
 - use patterns for adults in US, 92–98
 - use patterns for children in US, 86–92
- metaphors
 - defined, 186–89
 - in EU press, 185–99

- in press coverage, 12
- newspapers used in Euro study, 189
- power index in Ukraine, 232
- power of, 225
- used in crisis, 223
- used in Ukraine, 225
- modals
 - in Ukraine Orange Revolution, 233
 - types of, 226
- New Zealand, 104, 106
- newspapers
 - fewer readers in US, 81
 - influenced by television, 322
- Orange Revolution and media in Ukraine, 221–38
- participation friendliness
 - of political websites, 127, 135
 - of websites, 11, 101–19
- peer culture and political consciousness, 27–38
- Poland
 - political websites in, 145
- political consciousness, influence of peer culture on, 27–38
- political education, 11
- political participation
 - affected by 9/11 in US, 330
 - affected by electronic media deficit, 319–25
 - and Internet, 13
 - and Internet in China, 349–54
 - and media's affect on, 329–39
 - and virtual politics, 310–15
 - and website friendliness, 101–19
 - community connections, 126
 - family influence on, 20
 - information seeking, 126
 - Internet influence on, 109
 - political activity, 127
 - theory, 102
 - voting, 126
 - website quality and, 110–11
- political party, effectiveness of websites, 166–69
- political socialization, 10, 157
 - defined, 17–26
 - hidden curriculum and, 46
 - Internet influence on, 21–23
 - media's affect on, 329–39
 - new model for electronic age, 323–24
 - of youth, 10
 - television and Internet in US, 83–86
 - US educational trends, 60–68
- political transition and language, 223–24
- political websites
 - aesthetically pleasing?, 133–35
 - EU and CEE comparison, 149–51
 - in CEE evaluated, 140–49
 - in European Union (EU), 136–40
 - in former Yugoslavia evaluated, 145
 - in Poland evaluated, 145
 - in Russia evaluated, 141–45
 - in Ukraine evaluated, 146
 - interactive aspects of, 130–31
 - measure quality of, 135
 - participation friendliness of, 127
 - provide information, 128
 - the Netherlands, evaluated, 169–76
 - user-friendliness of, 123–25
- politics
 - and the Internet, 158–62
 - virtual and democracy, 303–17
- press
 - metaphors in EU, 185–99
 - reporting on Euro, 185–99, 203–17
- reconceptualism
 - contrasting US theories, 45–48
 - politics, education and in US, 41–69
- Russia
 - law on mass media, 246
 - political websites in, 141–45
 - post-Communist media, 241–47
- socialization
 - affects of Internet in US, 97
 - affects of television in US, 97
 - agents of, 10, 19–26
 - media and minority children in US, 84
 - media influence on, 21–23
 - media influence on in US, 77–99
 - new model for electronic age, 323–24
- television
 - and US political socialization, 83–86
 - coverage of Euro introduction, 205
 - focus on violence, 321
 - impact on US children, 92
 - in Russia, 243
 - main source of news and entertainment, 320
 - US news viewing trends, 96
- terrorism
 - and media, 12, 251–300
 - Brigate Rosse and Moro case, 271–76
 - international, defined and described, 256–61
 - systemic relationship with media, 276–94
- the Netherlands
 - 1998 elections, 127
 - political party websites evaluated, 169–76
 - political websites evaluated, 138
- Ukraine
 - media during and after Orange Revolution, 229–31
 - media on Orange Revolution, 221–38
 - political transition, 221–38
 - political websites evaluated in, 146
- United Kingdom (UK)
 - political websites, 106
 - political websites evaluated, 138
- United States (US)
 - critical theory in 1990s, 41–69
 - educational scene in 1990s, 41–45
 - educational trends, 60–68
 - Internet and political socialization, 83–86
 - Internet for political campaigns, 108

- low media consumption and voting, 335
- media after 9/11, 330
- media use by adults, 92–98
- media use by children, 86–92
- media use in, 77–99
- political participation after 9/11, 330
- political participation and media, 329–39
- political websites, 106
- social capital, losing, 80–83
- society, compared, 78–82
- television and political socialization, 83–86
- voter turnout in 2002 election, 331
- voter turnout in 2004 election, 338
- user-friendliness. See participation friendliness
- virtual politics
 - and democracy, 303–17
 - Baudrillard's developmental history, 310–15
 - Green Party convention, 304–7
 - party in the simulacrum, 315
- voter turnout
 - and electronic media, 13
 - in US elections, 13
- websites
 - aesthetic features, 111
 - and political campaigning, 107–8
 - assessment criteria, 115–19
 - effectiveness of for political party, 166–69
 - evaluation of, 11
 - government, evaluation of, 123–53
 - interactive features, 110
 - participation friendliness of, 11, 101–19, 101–19
 - political, 11, 101–19
 - quality of for politics, 110–11
- youth
 - and political consciousness, 27–38
 - get news online, 335
- Yugoslavia (former)
 - political websites evaluated in, 145

